

Restricted-Use General Licence

1.0 (RUGL)

You are encouraged to use the Information that is available under this licence freely and flexibly, in accordance with the conditions given below.

Using Information under this licence

Use of copyright and database right material expressly made available under this licence (the 'Information') indicates your acceptance of the terms and conditions below.

The Licensor grants you a worldwide, royalty-free, time-limited, non-exclusive licence to use the Information subject to the conditions below.

This licence will expire either at the end of the embargo period for the information or the termination date for the licence, whichever is the sooner.

This licence does not affect your freedom under fair dealing or fair use or any other copyright or database right exceptions and limitations.

You are free to:	You are not permitted to:
<ul style="list-style-type: none">● ADAPT the Information;● EXPLOIT the Information commercially and non-commercially for example, by combining it with other Information, or by including it in your own product or application.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">● PUBLISH, DISTRIBUTE or TRANSMIT the Information, including providing access to the Information via your own product or application.

You must (where you do any of the above):

- SEEK PERMISSION FROM THE INFORMATION PROVIDERS for the information or derived products to be used within any publication, presentation or service prior to the investigators' own publication of that work.

- OFFER JOINT AUTHORSHIP to the information providers for any related publication, presentation or service utilising the information.
- ACKNOWLEDGE THE SOURCE of the Information in your product or application by including or linking to any attribution statement specified by the Information Provider(s) and, where possible, provide a link to this licence.

If the Information Provider does not provide a specific attribution statement, you must use the following:

Contains information licensed under the Restricted-Use General Licence 1.0.

If you are using Information from several Information Providers and listing multiple attributions is not practical in your product or application, you may include a URI or hyperlink to a resource that contains the required attribution statements.

These are important conditions of this licence and if you fail to comply with them the rights granted to you under this licence, or any similar licence granted by the Licensor, will end automatically.

Exemptions

This licence does not cover:

- personal data in the Information;
- Information that has not been accessed by way of publication or disclosure under information access legislation (including the Freedom of Information Acts for the UK and Scotland) by or with the consent of the Information Provider;
- Any marks, logos, crests etc. deemed to be intellectual property for which permission is required before use, except where they form an integral part of a document or dataset;
- military insignia;
- third party rights the Information Provider is not authorised to license;
- other intellectual property rights, including patents, trade marks, and design rights; and
- identity documents such as the passports etc.

Non-endorsement

This licence does not grant you any right to use the Information in a way that suggests any official status or that the Information Provider and/or Licensor endorse you or your use of the Information.

No warranty

The Information is licensed 'as is' and the Information Provider and/or Licensor excludes all representations, warranties, obligations and liabilities in relation to the Information to the maximum extent permitted by law.

The Information Provider and/or Licensor are not liable for any errors or omissions in the Information and shall not be liable for any loss, injury or damage of any kind caused by its use. The Information Provider does not guarantee the continued supply of the Information.

Governing Law

This licence is governed by the laws of the jurisdiction in which the Information Provider has its principal place of business, unless otherwise specified by the Information Provider.

Definitions

In this licence, the terms below have the following meanings:

'Information' means information protected by copyright or by database right (for example, literary and artistic works, content, data and source code) offered for use under the terms of this licence.

'Information Provider' means the person or organisation providing the Information under this licence.

'Licensor' means any Information Provider which has the authority to offer Information under the terms of this licence.

'Use' means doing any act which is restricted by copyright or database right, whether in the original medium or in any other medium, and includes without limitation distributing, copying, adapting, modifying as may be technically necessary to use it in a different mode or format.

'You', 'you' and 'your' means the natural or legal person, or body of persons corporate or incorporate, acquiring rights in the Information (whether the Information is obtained directly from the Licensor or otherwise) under this licence.

About this Licence

The Centre for Environmental Data Analysis (CEDA) has developed this licence as a tool to enable Information Providers not able to use available open data licences (e.g. The UK Open Government Licence (OGL) or the Creative Commons licences) to license the use of their Information under a common data licence. CEDA has made use of content from the UK Open Government Licence v3.0 for this licence.

CEDA invites bodies owning their own copyright and database rights to permit the use of their Information under open data licences where possible, but failing that under this licence to allow the greatest use possible.

This is version 1.0 of the Restricted-Use General Licence (RUGL). CEDA may, from time to time, issue new versions of the Restricted-Use General Licence (RUGL). If you are already using Information under a previous version of the Restricted-Use General Licence (RUGL), the terms of that licence will continue to apply.
